Our religion to God.

God made the world & governs it invisibly, & hath commanded us to love honour & worship him & no other God but him & to do it without making any image of him, & not to name him idly & without reverence, & to honour our parents masters & governours, & love our neighbours as our selves, & to be temperate, modest, humble, just, & peaceable, & to be merciful even to brut beasts.

Our religion to Iesus Christ.

Iesus Christ a true man born of a woman was crucified by the Jews for teaching them the truth, & by the same power by which God gave life at first to every species of animals being revived, he appeared to his disciples & explained to them Moses & the Prophets concerning himself, as that he was the Sun of righteousness spoken of by Malachy, the son of man & the Messiah spoken of by Daniel,  < insertion from lower down f 1r >  God's servant David spoken of by Ezekiel, the Lord our righteousness spoken of by Jeremy, the Ruler in Israel spoken of by Micah, < text from f 1r resumes > the servant of God & lamb of God & Redeemer spoken of by Isaiah, the son of God & the Holy one spoken of by David, the seed of the woman & the Prophet & the Shiloh spoken of by Moses &c. And then he sent his disciples to teach others what he had taught them, & is gone into the heavens to receive a kingdom & prepare a place for us, & is mystically said to sit at the right hand of God, that is, to be next to him in dignity, & is worshipped & glorified as the Lamb of God, & hath sent the Holy Ghost to comfort us in his absence, & will at length return & reign above in the air (invisibly to mortals) till he hath raised up & judged all the dead (the saints in the first thousand years & the rest afterwards)  & sent the wicked to places suitable to their merits & then he will give up this kingdom to the father,  & carry the blessed (whom he hath merited by his death & redeemed with his blood) to the place or mansion which he is now preparing for them.   ffor in God's house (which is the univers) are many mansions

Our religion to the Church

We enter into societies (called churches) not by birth as the Jews did but by the ceremonies of baptism & confirmation, & assemble weekly to worship God joyntly by prayers & praises, & in our assemblies commemorate the death of Christ by breaking of bread & drinking of wine the symbols of his body & blood, & submit our causes to our governours who in every city compose a board of Elders with a President elected by the citizens, under whom are deacons to take care of the poor. And every particular church sends an Elder or Presbyter to every Parish under its jurisdiction, to instruct & govern the inhabitants. And by communicatory letters from the President they joyne in worship with other cities all which together compose the Church catholick. And this Church was illuminated by the lamps of the seven Churches of Asia till the death of Iohn the Apostle & his disciples: & had authority to propagate what she received & only what she received by tradition from the Apostles & Prophets, & is to continue till the times of the Gentiles be accomplished, & then shall all Israel be saved.

God made the world & governs it invisibly, & hath commanded us to love honour & worship him & no other God but him, & not to represent him by any image, nor to name him idly & without reverence & to honour our parents & masters & governours & love our neighbours as our selves & to be temperate modest humble just & peaceable, & to be mercifull even to bruit beasts. And by the same power by which God gave life at first to every species of animals he is able to revive the dead, & hath revived Iesus Christ our redeemer, who is gone into the heavens to receive a kingdom & prepare a place for us, & to represent him next in dignity to God, is said to sit at his right hand, & may be worshipped & glorified as the Lamb of God, & hath sent the Holy Ghost to comfort us in his absence, & will at length return & reign over us invisibly to mortals till he hath raised up & judged all the dead, & then will give up this kingdom to the father, & carry the blessed to the place which he is now preparing for them, & send the rest to other places suitable to their merits. ffor in Gods house (which is the Vniverse) are many mansions.

We enter into societies by the ceremonies of Baptism & laying on of hands, & assemble weekly to worship God & commemorate the death of Christ in our assemblies by breaking of bread, & submit our causes to our {go}vernours.
